New Electric
Line to
Los Angeles
To Start
Service by
Jan. 1, 1924

HAVE you noticed that the poles to carry the power wires for the Glendale avenue electric line have already been installed? If not you will probably be surprised to learn that this is a fact.

Last reports from the electric locomotive which was shipped from the Pittsburgh shops, where it had been sent for overhauling, after being on display at Atlantic City, came from Marion, Ohio, where it was last Friday. Barring accidents it ought to arrive in Glendale some time next week.

THIS electric engine is to replace the oil-burning locomotive which has been an eyesore to all residents of Glendale avenue. The engine will be used in handling the Glendale freight of both the Glendale and Montrose railway and the Salt Lake line.

The passenger service will be handled with the same class of electric cars as are used by modern transportation companies. The cars will be somewhat larger than any now used in Glendale, accommodating 56 passengers instead of 48, which is the largest now in use here.

FROM information we have been able to secure, service on Glendale avenue will most likely start by January 1, 1924. Twenty-minute service is to be furnished during the peak hours of traffic, between 6 and 9 o'clock in the morning and 3 and 7 o'clock in the evening. Half-hour service will be given at other times.

JUDGE RECOMMENDS AUTOS OF SPEEDSTERS BE BRANDED

[By Associated Press]
SEATTLE, Oct. 31.—Branding of automobiles owned by persistent traffic law violators, in order that they may be recognized by the public at large, was the drastic step recommended by a local judge here yesterday.

"The mark of discredit should be cut upon the man or woman who continually violates the state traffic laws," stated Judge G. C. Dalton. "First, the offending driver's license should be taken away for a period of time commensurate with his or her crime."
"Then I would have a large cross, in some bright color, painted on each side of his or her automobile. It should be large enough to attract attention for 100 feet or more, so that the pedestrian may know that the owner of the car had been found guilty of a serious infraction of the traffic laws."

TWO HOMES ENTERED BY BURGLARS. LITTLE IS TAKEN

A burglary at 544 West Lexington drive was interrupted at 7 o'clock last night by the return home of Harry Mitchell. As he entered the front door, an unknown man departed hurriedly out the rear door. While he was telephoning to the police department another stranger came out of a bedroom and also left by the back door. Only a few trinkets were stolen.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Shepherd at 1018 San Rafael also was entered about 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A trunk, which had been left unlocked, was opened and an iron-bound box was opened. As it contained insurance and non-negotiable papers they were not molested.

GLENDALE AVENUE ELECTRIC LINE BY JAN. 1

Twenty Brightest Stars in Filmdom Constellation in Glendale Nov. 6

WHOLE-HEARTED IS RESPONSE OF FILM STARS

They Give Their Services Gladly; Your Part to Buy Tickets

Rarely has there been so whole-hearted a response to an appeal to the higher nature than that given by motion picture stars to the call for volunteers to put on a benefit performance for dependents of Glendale's fire heroes, Clarence Edwards and J. W. McGahan. Not one who was approached refused and always the response was instant and hearty. Indeed, these generous-hearted film favorites seemed to hold it a privilege to lend their aid in this most worthy cause. Here is the list, to date, of those who will appear on the program at Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium on the night of Tuesday, November 6:

Will Rogers, Lionel Belmore, Clara Kimball Young, Ruth Roland, Lucille Cavanaugh, Wanda Hawley, Louise Dresser, Jack Gardner, Herbert Rawlinson, George Melford, Jacqueline Logan, Wm. Desmond, Milton Sills, Ernest Torrence, Lew Cody, Hedda Hopper, Agnes Ayres, Arthur Stuart Hull, Shirley Mason and Viola Dana.

There are just 763 seats in the auditorium and exactly that number of tickets are for sale at $5 each. Many persons have taken more than one and some have obligated themselves to sell a certain number. Notable among these latter is "Uncle Bill" Howe, who volunteered to sell 100.

It is such noble acts as enumerated above that show human nature in its finest aspect and convince one that there are many, many more good people than bad in the world.

These tickets are selling fast. All must be disposed of before Tuesday evening. Have you bought yours?

FEDERAL BUILDING NOT NEEDED YET SAYS JACKSON

Present Population of Glendale Does Not Justify, He Says

The establishment of a federal building in Glendale would be a mistake at the present time, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, official representative of the federal government, expressed this opinion last night to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce. He outlined his stop-over where he conferred with John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general.

"I took up the matter of a federal building," he remarked, "and I feel that just as soon as we are ready for a federal building we will get it."

If Glendale should be given a federal building now, in the opinion of Capt. Jackson, "it would be made only a large enough for the present needs of the postoffice as no other federal departments have offices here. In a short time it would be too small to house the postoffice and there would be no space for federal offices which might be established here."

He called attention to the fact that as soon as the local population has reached a certain figure, classified sub-stations will be established in preference to enlarging the central postoffice. He suggested that when this time comes Glendale will be ready for a federal building."

AUTO DAMAGED IN COLLISION YESTERDAY

A collision, which occurred about 5:45 p. m. yesterday, was reported to the police department. C. H. Little, of 1900 Glenwood road, was driving west on Wilson avenue and Louis W. Knoll of Los Angeles was going south on Kenilworth avenue. Mr. Little's car was damaged by the impact.

MRS. MORRIS HAS FUR STOLEN FROM AUTO

Mrs. T. Morris of 376 Arden avenue yesterday had a fur stolen from her automobile.

INQUIRY BOARD FIXES BLAME FOR NAVAL DISASTER

[By Associated Press]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The disaster off Point Honda, California, September 8, which resulted in the stranding of seven destroyers, is directly attributable to the "errors of judgment and faulty navigation on the part of three officers attached to and serving on the Delphy," the official board of inquiry found in its report to the navy department made public today.

The three officers referred to were the squadron commander, Captain Edward H. Watson; the commanding officer of the Delphy, Lieutenant Commander Donald T. Hunter, and the navigating officer, Lieutenant Lawrence F. Blodgett.

ADVANCE SALE OF SEATS FOR GAME IS 55,000

California-U. S. C. Battle Will Draw Crowd of 83,000, Prediction

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—More than 55,000 seats have already been sold for the big California-U. S. C. football game to be played in the Coliseum on Saturday, November 10, it was announced today by Gwynn Wilson, general manager. With interest in the Trojans renewed following their victory over Stanford last Saturday, Wilson anticipates a capacity crowd of 83,000 persons at the coming game between the North and the South.

This game is more than a contest between two universities. It is Los Angeles against San Francisco, and thousands of persons from all sections of the state and elsewhere will be on hand to cheer their favorite.

The Trojans will enjoy a week's lay-off, having no game scheduled for this Saturday. This rest of two weeks will give Henderson's team a chance to get back into condition after their tough battle with Stanford. California plays Nevada this week. The only immediate game in which the U. S. C. rooters are interested is the clash on Saturday between Leo Calland's Trojan frosh and the freshmen of the University of California. This game will be played Saturday in Berkeley and will be the last contest of the season for the local babes, who are undefeated. They won over the Stanford freshmen last Saturday, 10 to 0.

Henderson gave his men a rest on Monday, but Tuesday afternoon he had them out on Bovard Field again, going through their preliminary work in preparation for the big game with the Bears. Henderson said that all of his men will be in condition for the game with the exception of Gordon Campbell, his star fullback, who is suffering from two cracked ribs and a wrenched hip. Campbell is Henderson's greatest backfield player and if he fails to get into the lineup against the Bears the Trojan offensive will be at its minimum strength.

California defeated U. S. C. last year, 12 to 0. Despite their recent defeat at the hands of Washington, the Trojans are figured strong enough to give the Bears a great battle and many expect them to defeat Andy Smith's eleven, which was held to a 9 to 0 score by Washington State, considered the weakest team in the conference.

DEATH PENALTY ASKED FOR JAP ACCUSED OF MURDER

[By Associated Press]
SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31.—The extreme penalty, capital punishment, will be asked in the case of Fortunio Padilla, accused of setting fire to a Japanese mission school in this city April 15, last, which caused the death of ten small children, who went on trial in superior court today. Assistant District Attorney A. W. Han, who is prosecuting the case, declared in his opening argument that the death penalty would be sought.

Padilla was arrested in Orange county and Sacramento officials declared he confessed to setting numerous fires in Southern California and in Sacramento to "see the fire engine run." The Japanese mission school fire was among those Padilla is alleged to have admitted he fired.

REALTY BOARD IS PLANNING FOR CONFERENCE

Glendale Gets the First Regional Meet of the Seventh District

The first regional conference of the Seventh district of the California Real Estate association will be held in Glendale on Saturday, November 17, according to an announcement made by Secretary E. P. Hayward of the Glendale Realty Board at the organization's weekly luncheon at the Egyptian Village Cafe today.

This conference has been called by Charles B. Guthrie of Glendale, vice-president of the state association and in charge of the seventh regional district.

The subject to be taken up during the morning session, from 9 until 12 o'clock, will be "Multiple Listing," while the afternoon session will be given over entirely to the discussion of problems that are of interest to those attending the conference, one to be salesmanship.

Secretary Hayward stated that between 300 and 400 delegates are expected to be in Glendale on this occasion. For this event the following chairmen of committees have been appointed: Arrangement, E. P. Hayward; reception, Mrs. Foot; luncheon, J. I. Wermette.

No definite arrangements have been made for a place for this conference, but it is expected it will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Following this announcement, Peter Hanson plead with the members of the board to back up Mr. Guthrie and make this event a real success.

A communication was received inviting the Glendale board to have a display in the coming exposition that will be held at the Aracadia balloon field and a committee of three was ordered appointed to take care of this matter.

Realtor Pearson reported with regard to the bond of $20 that every real estate operator will be required to take out next year. He said that the National Security company has a short form bond that is very desirable.

A communication was received from President Barber of the state organization informing the local board that he will be in Glendale within a short time.

A letter was read from Mayor Robinson reminding the members of the board of the coming benefit for the dependents of Glendale's fire heroes.

The latter part of the meeting was given over to considering amendments to the constitution and bylaws of the board.

LAUDS IMPORTANCE OF P. E. SUBWAY TERMINAL

The importance of the establishment of a subway terminal under Pershing square was emphasized by P. J. Hayselden of 901—South Glendale avenue last night to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Pacific Electric already has spent $800,000 in the acquisition of necessary right-of-way for its tube between the Hill street station and Glendale boulevard, according to Mr. Hayselden.

He quoted Attorney Frank Karr, vice president of the Pacific Electric as stating that this subway will materially reduce the running time between Los Angeles and Glendale.

Mr. Hayselden exclaimed: "This is one of the biggest things that could happen to Glendale!"

VALUE TO CITY OF PUBLICITY IS SHOWN

An indication of the value of publicity was received with interest last night by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. It was in the form of a letter from Mrs. Fannie L. Fanta of Los Angeles.

"Your booklet concerning the growth and development of Glendale has been received and read with much interest," she wrote. "I should be interested in acquiring some property in Glendale."

BENEFIT TICKETS ARE SELLING FAST SAYS SANDERS

E. F. Sanders, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in commenting on the sale of tickets for the benefit to be given Tuesday, November 6 at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for the survivors of men who sacrificed their lives in the mountain fire, predicted that by Thursday of the present week all of the 763 tickets, which is all the auditorium will accommodate, will have been sold at $5 each and that the fact they will be at a premium. In that event persons who are not able to attend will be asked to turn in their tickets and let them be sold again for the benefit of the fund. A wonderful program has been secured by Uncle "Bill" Howe and his committee associates and when the public wakes up to the fact they are likely to be willing to pay all kinds of prices to get there if there is a shortage of tickets.

EXCHANGE CLUB HEARS DR. DIRKS OF L. A.

Fine Musical Program Is Given and Guests Are Welcomed

The Glendale Exchange club held its weekly meeting at noon today. A group of popular songs formed the entertainment feature of the occasion. These were interpreted by "Bill" Hatch of Altadena, pianist, and Arthur Raymond Hill of Los Angeles, vocalist. Both have had their "stuff" broadcasted. Numbers included "Ha-ha-ha," "Marcheta," "Buckwheat Cakes," "I Love Me" and "Babbling Brook."

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jackson of 2363 Ellendale place, Los Angeles, and son "Bobby" were guests of R. E. Johnston of 44 South San Fernando road at the luncheon. Mrs. Jackson, who is a pianist of ability, played a march by Hollander.

Allen Crawford, Jr., of 235½ North Brand boulevard, who is a member of the Exchange club of Jackson, Mich., expressed his pleasure at being able to attend the meeting. He remarked that it seemed like home to be able to get back among Exchangers.

The speech of the occasion was in regard to the crime "epidemic." Dr. Charles B. Dirks expressed his opinion that a cure for this will not be found until society ceases to regard criminals as a group and begins to analyze them as individuals.

Owing to the crowded conditions of all penal institutions, he stated, paroles are granted to old prisoners in order to make room for new ones. He asserted that the county jail, which has a capacity for 400 prisoners, now has 624 on the register.

A criminal, in the opinion of Dr. Dirks, is one who is unable to realize the importance of subduing his own savage instincts to the well-being of civilization. He stated that a large number of them are either mentally or physically defective.

SHORTRIDGE, LINEBERGER FAVOR NATIONAL BUDGET

The attitude of this district's representatives at the national capital in regard to the national budget last night by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Congressman Walter F. Lineberger of Long Beach stated that he was in favor of the budget system—with certain changes in procedure.

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge of San Francisco wrote: "I am at a loss to understand why anyone acquainted with the lack of system in respect to government appropriations heretofore in vogue, can justify attack on the national budget law."

FAKE SALESMAN SENTENCED TO SPEND 14 DAYS IN JAIL

Paul R. Talmage, alias R. K. Wells, yesterday was sentenced to 14 days in the county jail by Judge Harry Chase. He was arrested for taking orders for china in behalf of the Pacific Decorating company, which does not exist.

ANNEXATION OF THE "UP COUNTRY" BEFORE C. OF C.

The up-country may annex to Glendale.

The possibility of this taking place was discussed briefly last night by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

A decision was reached that a committee should be appointed to "listen in" at a meeting to discuss annexation Thursday night in the La Crescenta school.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin expressed his opinion that the matter should be given very definite consideration before any definite attitude is assumed. He called attention to the fact that the territory in question is in need of utilities, police and fire protection.

Secretary E. F. Sanders and Peter L. Ferry both took an optimistic view of the annexation and announced themselves very much in favor of it.

THIS EVENING EVERYBODY SAY HALLOWKIWANIS

It Is Kiddies' Night and the Whole City Is Theirs

Up to Tuesday night more than 1000 children of the grammar schools of Glendale had signified their intention of attending the mammoth Halloween party that will be given tonight at the Kiwanis Club of Glendale. These alone would constitute quite a mob, but the chances are that at least twice that number will be in the lineup, when the parade starts up Brand boulevard at about 7:15 o'clock. There will be waves and oceans of budding humanity—every drop of which will be precious to someone's heart.

All kinds of makeups will be there. There will be witches, clowns, black cats, Charlie Chaplins, Sis Hopkinses, the old woman in the shoe, the man in the moon; in fact, the whole family will be there.

There has been a change in the program of "eats." Originally it was expected that "hot dogs" would be served, but developments make it more desirable to provide doughnuts, apples and Comalt instead.

Another change is necessary, that being in connection with the pushball game. It was impossible to secure a push ball, so that it was necessary to substitute cage ball instead. There will be two contests, one between the Juniors and the Sophomores of the high school and one between teams from the Glendale avenue and the Wilson avenue intermediate schools. A 2-pound box of candy will be given as a prize to each of the members of the winning teams. Coach Hayhurst of the Glendale High school will have charge of the sports.

The pupils up to and including the third grade will assemble on Harvard between Maryland and Louise, facing west; pupils of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades will gather on Harvard between Louise and Kenwood, facing west; those of the 7th and 8th grades will assemble on Louise street between Harvard and Broadway, facing south, and the pupils of the High school and others of similar age will gather on Louise between Harvard and Colorado, facing north.

All of the Glendale Kiwanians and many friends of the city are working overtime to make this event a decided success.

Following are additional Glendaleans who are assisting in making this event a success by their donations: Glendale Paint and Paper company, one gallon of paint for signs; Goode & Belew, canvas for the signs; William Tanner, automobile for official car; C. M. Burke, work of painting signs, and D. C. Cowlin, donations of cards and badges for the celebration.

CHARGE MAN THREATENS TO MURDER HIS WIFE

Charged with having threatened to murder his wife, Mrs. Dessa Humphrey, Guy Humphrey of 323 West Palmer avenue, yesterday afternoon surrendered himself to the police. He was released upon his own recognizance. The date for the hearing has not been set by Judge Harry Chase.

STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION ACTS ON PETITIONS

Those Noted Below Are of Interest to Glendale Residents

Permission has been granted by the Railroad commission to Flintridge Motor company, a corporation, to operate an automobile stage line over the following described route in lieu of the existing operating right of the company between Flintridge, Linda Vista and Pasadena:

From Michigan avenue and School street, east on Michigan avenue to La Canada and Verdugo road, passing Flintridge Country club, south on La Canada and Verdugo road to Berkshire avenue, west on Berkshire avenue to Commonwealth avenue, south on Commonwealth avenue to Flintridge avenue, southeast on Flintridge avenue to Highland drive, east on Highland drive to Devil's Gate dam to Linda Vista road, south on Linda Vista road to Orange Grove avenue, south on Orange Grove avenue to Colorado street, east on Colorado street to De Lacy st., east on De Lacy to Green street, east on Green street to Fair Oaks, north on Fair Oaks to Union depot."

The commission has denied the application of Verdugo Hills Transportation company for a certificate to operate a passenger stage service between Pasadena, Flintridge, La Canada, La Crescenta, Tujunga, Sunland and intermediate points, holding that the proposed service is not warranted in view of the application of the Flintridge Motor company, a corporation, to care for this traffic.

The Wesley Roberts company and others have filed a complaint with the Railroad commission against Southern California Telephone company charging that the company will not install telephones at the office of the Wesley Roberts company at 3068 Sagamore way, and adjacent points in Los Angeles, unless the applicants will accept service from the switchboard of the company at the Glendale exchange, thereby subjecting applicants to a toll of 10 cents for each call to the Los Angeles exchange. Complainants ask the Railroad commission to issue its order requiring the Southern California Telephone company to supply service to them through the Los Angeles exchange.

AFTERMATH OF LOS ANGELES P. O. ROBBERY 2 YEARS AGO

[By Associated Press]

DETROIT, Oct. 31.—Frank Wilson, 39 years old, a Battle Creek baker, was brought here today to appear in federal district court on a charge of conspiracy to defraud. The last man to be arrested in what officials say was a plot in which more than $1,000,000 worth of bonds and securities was taken from the Los Angeles, Calif., post-office two years ago. Wilson was arrested at Battle Creek, Saturday.

Postoffice officials declare Wilson's home was used as a place where stolen securities were stored and divided. The alleged conspiracy took place, according to the complaint, during the winter of 1921-22, when Wilson was an employee of the Los Angeles post-office.

Wilson has lived in Battle Creek for 17 years, except for the short time he was in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pease of this city are spending the week in San Francisco as the guests of their daughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—It would cost $14,500,000 to change all of the 446 state highway grade crossings in the state in a manner that would make them safe in every respect, according to an estimate issued today by the state railroad commission. DYNAMITE WILL REMOVE ALL TRACES HONDA WRECK

[By Associated Press]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 31.—The navy officers in charge of salvage work at Honda, where seven destroyers went on the rocks, soon will apply dynamite to the hulks and remove the last trace of the disaster.

The salvage crews with steel cables and tractors are hauling ashore a good deal of the heavy material recovered by the wrecking contractors. All recoverable material worth saving will be removed in the course of thirty days, it is expected, and then the powerful explosive will do the rest.

The battered hulls of the Chauncey, S. P. Lee and the Woodruff are still standing monuments of the disaster. Only a few traces of the others are left and daily these sink lower in the water.

END OF A GREAT LIFE

The death of Charles P. Steinmetz ended a notable career. In usefulness to his fellow men, it would be difficult to name his equal. His was a profound mind to which were revealed as by an opened book, secrets that but for his type of intelligence, must have remained sealed. As a scientist dealing with the mysterious forces of electric energy, and controlling their application, he was in a class by himself.

A great soul, an indomitable spirit, locked in a frail and hampering tenement, he defied his weakness, and in his quest for knowledge, would not be denied. Distinctions and degrees came upon him, for the world recognized his acumen, and accepted his findings. The best scholars of the world were glad to be in his company.

Busy as was Steinmetz with his experiments and his constructive work, he had time to think along other lines of the good of humanity. He believed that conditions caused men to work too hard, and he hoped for a time to come when their burden might be lessened. That it might be lessened was one of the hopes that inspired his activities. It is possible that some of his dreams may not come true; possible also that it were better that not all should come true, but they were noble dreams.

The scientific world will miss the counsels and the example of Steinmetz, but the vacancy he leaves does not all pertain to science. He loved his fellow men, he wrought for their benefit. They did not have to be scientists to be keenly aware of his fineness of purpose. A giant brain, a great soul, a feeble but willing body was this man who has passed on, leaving the record of vast achievement, and an honored name.

TOO MANY OPERATIONS

Surgeons themselves are saying that there are too many operations. Surely they are in a position to know. There was a time a few years ago when almost any pain in the abdominal region was proclaimed as appendicitis and the surgeon started after it knife in hand. He cut out something and in instances it ended the pain. Many a citizen wears the scars of that period, provided of course that he survived the experience.

Opposed to the course then prevalent were certain schools that contended for letting nature take its course. They leaned heavily on the recuperative powers of the human body. They did not desire that it be punctured, sliced nor yet doctored overmuch. The gap between the opposing sets of beliefs is not so wide as once it was.

It is fair to assume that in the exploration of the human interior under conditions indicative of an appendix gone wrong, the surgeons acquired useful knowledge. Perhaps they learned the character of the ailment so intimately as to be able to treat it successfully by methods less strenuous. Anyhow it is comforting to realize that the surgeon is far less prone now than formerly to clap a cone over the nose of a patient, and take advantage of the ensuing inertia.

TAKING A HAND

For almost ten months the powers of Europe considered a proposal advanced by Secretary Hughes before they saw fit to adopt it. The proposal was for a scientific inquiry into the ability of Germany to pay reparations.

It is impossible to perceive that any country concerned, if acting in good faith, could object to such inquiry. If to pay is absolutely impossible, Germany would be having its own contentions sustained. If that country is able to pay, then France could not feel otherwise than glad to have its views upheld. England of course desires an adjustment leading to immediate resumption of trade relations.

Nothing could be plainer now than that the whole truth must be known. If any one has a better plan than that of Mr. Hughes, there has been singular lack of enterprise in bringing it forward.

The action of this government is no plunge into European affairs. It is the proffer to be of service, but only by and with the consent of the powers served. French acceptance so far has not been unconditional, but there is hope that this difficulty may be overcome.

Of course the assertion that the purpose of any European power engaged in a struggle largely economic, is to cause the United States to cancel its war debts, is a pure invention. No reason either moral, or based on business principles, has been cited why such a course should be taken. This country does not imply, by its humanitarian effort, that it has such intention, and it assumes no obligation that could give rise to a contrary belief.

Lloyd George says the situation in Europe is more encouraging because of the exchange of the Hughes and Curzon notes and the French reply. In this the people of the United States are expected to agree.

FLORA IN SLUMBER

Scientific treatment is said now to put flowers to sleep, and to awaken them at will. Vegetables also, but there is no romantic appeal inherent in the potato. Whether its numerous eyes are closed in slumber, or open, and taking in the scenery, may be passed over as lacking in heart interest. But the rose, or even the daisy, taking a siesta, represents the picturesque. One is conscious of sympathy for it when science tweaks its petals and says "Wake up!"

Probably more poetry has crept into the accounts of the scientists than really belongs there. They have by the application of light, produced recognizable effects. They are able to stimulate growth because by light and heat they may produce the climatic effect of certain seasons. It is stretching the imagination a little to term the conditions of the flowers experimented upon, either as wakefulness or as sleeping. There is an artificial stimulation. When this is withdrawn normal conditions ensue.

To make the scientific description fit the circumstance, it is necessary to accept the theory that growth does not progress during the period of sleep. As a matter of fact growth does proceed while the body is in profound rest, and faster than when it is alert and active.

Stephen Crane wrote of "the screams of cut trees." There is so noble an individuality to a tree as to arouse a tendency to regard it as sentient, equipped with a soul. But after all, no basis is to be found for such belief. To say that a flower sleeps is almost to endow it with consciousness, and for this there is no warrant. Otherwise the plucking of a bouquet would be slaughter.

Some men attempt so much that they never get anything finished.

WHAT IS YOUR "REAL SELF?"

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

No wail more frequently distresses than the cry of women who have let themselves "go" and have lost every physical charm through carelessness and who then, confronted with indifference from their husbands cry:

"But I thought after all these years that he loved me for myself."

Woman dear, whoever and wherever you are, what is yourself?

Is it not a series of impressions which you convey to another through your body?

What is music but a series of impressions conveyed from the mind of the performer to the mind of the listener by means of an instrument? Now, if the instrument is damaged the message does not get across. If an old piano is kept in tune it will still convey its messages with perhaps an added mellowness as the gift of the years.

The strings and keys of the human body are designed to express something. The teeth, the skin, the eyes, the hair, movement, gesture, voice—these are the strings and the keys of the human body. The real self is that which speaks through them.

If the instruments are allowed to decay, if they are not set in costumes and colors that bring out their beauty and their power the message does not get across.

Let us illustrate. Among my acquaintances is a woman who for years suffered with pyorrhea. Her teeth protruded and when she smiled you saw inflamed gums, and so you shrank away and little crinkles ran up and down your spine.

She dropped from sight for a long time and then suddenly in a big store I met her face to face. She smiled and I gasped, but with pleasure. Twenty years had fallen from her like magic. The smile revealed a fine artistic set of "stars" in her face. Little gold fillings appeared here and there and the fine color and shape of the whole set made looking at her a joy.

To be sure one looked at a false set of teeth; but when one looks at a picture one looks at an imitation of a natural object; one enjoys the illusion of looking at the original.

You could now talk to this woman with comfort; one enjoyed looking at her. The old teeth were not her "very self;" they were merely instruments that no longer conveyed the message of her very self, and she was fortunate to be able to replace them with other and better instruments.

The woman who allows her figure to slump and her abdomen to protrude is not expressing her "very self;" she is merely advertising the badness of her judgment and the fact that she wears poor corsets. To expect her husband to enjoy looking at her because he has the memory of the fine figure that she had in youth is to expect too much. He knows that if she had pride and ingenuity she could keep a decent figure and if she keeps it the pride of her "very self" speaks through her carriage.

Character is fine and it chisels the face inevitably; but every woman should realize that the owner of a piano keeps it in repair even when it is old, more than then ever before. Character can shine through an agreeable face better than through one that has been allowed to "go it seed." You may have a finer character than the "other woman," but unless you have so kept your body that its message speaks through it you husband may fall under the illusion created by some other pleasing exterior and you will find yourself compelled to fight for appreciation.

The most foolish woman in the world is she who depends on memory to hold for her what should come spontaneously because every feature and every movement conveys pleasure.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

She and he had the neighboring seats in the parlor car yesterday. She very imposing in all sorts of silks and dingle-dangles and doodads. A little drawn about the cheeks, perhaps. That old comfortable fullness, even to graze to "go it seed." You may have a finer character than the "other woman," but unless you have so kept your body that its message speaks through it you husband may fall under the illusion created by some other pleasing exterior and you will find yourself compelled to fight for appreciation.

The most foolish woman in the world is she who depends on memory to hold for her what should come spontaneously because every feature and every movement conveys pleasure.

"I always think," they said in chorus, "how dreadfully unfinished this country is." Sure it's unfinished. The train kept passing little settlements. Logs were lying around. Lumber was seasoning. Ditches were being dug. Fences were more or less yet-trap-like. Sheds were away-backed and concave-sided and unpainted. The visible populace was booted, overhauled, gingham-shirted. Sometimes one caught a glimpse of an unspoiled wood or a sparkling stream meandering through a meadow, or a hummocked, boggy, silver-willow swamp. One remembered then the beauty that had been spoiled by man.

"Over in Europe," She and He said. Then I boiled over. I've been to Europe, too. The village streets in Lorraine are picturesque. But piles of manure mount beneath the best room windows. The well water is apt to be saturated with typhoid germs. Germany has wonderful old villages, too. And the boys of those villages have been taken for the army for generations. England's thatched cottages, covered with roses, will never be forgotten. But the percentage of deaths in them runs a bit too high. No land is more packed and jammed with beauty than Italy, but her young men must go abroad. There is no work at home.

That is, of course, not an argument why farm homes should be distressfully shabby and down at the heels and rusty. Nor littered with trash. Even if our country is unfinished.

DOORS OF NEW DE LUXE CAFE WILL SWING WIDE OPEN

Edwards & Dennis to Open Chateau de Qualite Tomorrow

The doors of the Edwards & Dennis cafe, the "Chateau de Qualite," 108 East Broadway, will swing wide open early Thursday morning to the many Glendaleans who have been awaiting the completion of this beautiful, strictly up-to-the-minute refreshment palace. At that time the residents of this city will find one of the swiftest and most artistic places of this kind to be seen anywhere in Southern California. Effort and money have not been spared in the improvement and beautifying of this cafe.

The formal opening of this cafe will be held between 5 and 11 o'clock Saturday night, when a special menu will be served. There will be plenty of good music.

Finished in birch throughout, the woodwork of this cafe is the most beautiful it is possible to produce. With Tiffany walls, in which nine different shades have been used, and gray paneled ceilings, connected by a frieze of various shades and designs of blue, the room is of a character that will immediately appeal to the lover of the unique and the beautiful.

The main dining room has a seating capacity of 105 people. Along the sides are pretty birch booths, with double backs, this being the first time this feature has been used in Glendale. The floor covering is of Inlaid Huleum. The room is lighted from overhead.

The Grauman iceless fountain, which occupies the front right section of the room, is the most complete in Glendale. It has its own individual steam table for light lunches, and has iceless refrigeration compartment for everything used in connection with it. The top is of birch; the front is of yellow Senica and black Belgian marble, and the stools are deeply upholstered. Four soda clerks will be employed.

The confectionery department is complete in every detail. The very finest confections are carried. The chocolates are purchased from outside but the home-made candies are made in the company's own factory. Large upright show cases, having several compartments, feature this department.

At the rear of the fountain one large mirror, above which is a design in silk damask, and at either end of which is a panel of velvet with gold thread. A similar design is carried out behind the confectionery department.

P. M. Edwards and George B. Dennis, proprietors of this establishment, are determined to give Glendale the best there is in their line. Mr. Edwards has for years conducted the Caramel Shop, at 800 South Main street, Los Angeles, where he conducts a candy factory.

For several months Mr. Dennis has had charge of the soda fountain and lunches at the Roberts & Echols pharmacy.

They are both men of long experience in their chosen line and know how to "produce the eats and drinks."

MRS. C. R. NORTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED AT BIG PARTY

More than fifty friends of Rev. C. R. Norton, chaplain of N. P. Banks Post G. A. R., and wife, gathered at their home at 801 E. Wilson avenue on Tuesday afternoon to pay their respects and celebrate the seven-tenth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Norton. Rev. Norton states that it was the first time in fifty years he had been able to plan and carry through a real surprise for her. On returning home from her daughter's Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Norton was greeted with a houseful of friends. A large birthday cake decorated with 70 tiny flags centered the dining table.

A short informal program which had been arranged by Rev. Norton opened with a vocal duet "When You and I Were Young 'Jennie,'" rendered by two members of his Bible class from the Methodist Sunday school, Mrs. C. M. Taylor and Mrs. J. R. Young. C. H. Clark, adjutant of the Banks Post, gave a short talk. Mrs. Flora Pixley, president of the Corps, gave words of congratulation. An interesting reading was given by Mrs. Jack Rehberg. Mrs. W. A. Saylor sang an old time song. The next item of interest was the cutting of the big birthday cake, which was served with delicious punch. After refreshments all joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

MRS. SCHWITTERS NEW CLUB SOCIAL SECRETARY

Mrs. Loretta Schwitters of 525 North Adams street has accepted the position of hostess and social secretary of the Sunset Canyon club and will be spending much of her time there from this on. She and Mr. Schwitters are members of the club and own a cabin site on which they plan to build. She reports that the Halloween dance given by the club Tuesday night was a huge success, attended by about 250, of whom not less than fifty were Glendaleans. Guests came costumed and masked, and the club house was decorated in Halloween emblems and colors. The ladies' costume prize went to Miss Helen Christie of S. Oxford street, Los Angeles, and the gentlemen's favor to James Wisner of South Normandie avenue, the same city. A fancy dance was executed by little Constance Steelman of this city, daughter of Dr. C. Stuart Steelman. Many favors were given out and the dancers enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY BY 40 REBEKAHS AND 'BEAUX'

Forty Carnation Rebekahs and their husbands and sweethearts had a good old-fashioned Halloween dancing party at Odd Fellows' hall Tuesday evening for which the Kelly Shrine Orchestra furnished the music. Guests were costumed and masked and found a Halloween atmosphere in the ball room, which had been decorated with fearsome emblems of All Saints' eve. Mrs. Evelyn Hall was in charge of the affair and punch was served to the thirsty merry-makers throughout the evening. The prize for the best ladies' costume was won by Miss Garton, the gentlemen's trophy going to Mr. Seimson. At the coming meeting of Rebekahs next Tuesday night, three applicants for membership will be initiated.

DR. MAYER GIVES STIRRING TALK BEFORE T. A. CLUB

Henry Cantor Sings and Harry Cantor Gives Piano Numbers

The Tuesday Afternoon club held its regular meeting yesterday. Preceding the program Mrs. Daniel Campbell presided at a short business session opened with the salute to the flag led by the chairman of patriotism, Mrs. S. C. Leppelman. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice-president and chairman of ways and means, presented the treasurer with a check for $600. She also announced the society circus for November 16 and 17. Mr. Campbell announced the following motion pictures as having been approved by the California Federation of Women's Clubs: "Green Goddess," "Why Worry," "The Covered Wagon," "Spanish Dancer," "Little Old New York," "The Extra Girl" and "If Winter Comes."

Another $5 was received towards the club's donation to the first victims' testimonial fund. Dr. Jasper J. Mayer, president of the University of Psychological Research, was then introduced and read a paper on "Modern Tendencies of American Women." Three vital things pointed out by Dr. Mayer as being factors in the life of the women of today were: A deference to public opinion, a belief in education and her devotion to industrial and worldly success. He said in part: "Women are more important in modern civilization than men for she sets the ideals of a nation by setting the subconscious ideals in infancy. The chorus girl illusion appeals to man's missionary spirit. He wants to save her soul. The period of the lip stick, rouge and cigarette is merely the sign of a challenge of the young women to the chorus girl." When questioned as to whether influence of the wrong kind of motion pictures could be overcome, Dr. Mayer said "evil never has been able to succeed in the face of knowledge. It is not the motion picture that makes the young people go wrong but the lack of certain influences on the other side that does not make them go right."

Henry Cantor, tenor, and Harry Nielsen, pianist, gave a very interesting musical entertainment. The numbers included a piano solo, "Prelude in G Minor" (Czerwonky, by Mr. Nielsen; vocal solos, Mr. Cantor, accompanied by Mr. Nielsen; "God Touched the Rose," "Duna," "Parting" (Tosti), "For You Alone" and selection from "Rigoletto;" piano solo by Mr. Nielsen, "Polonaise" (Chopin). Maude Fenlon Bollman will be the entertainer for the club meeting on November 6. She possesses a brilliant soprano voice. The topic of her program will be "A Song of Life." The regular luncheon will be at 12:30, short business meeting at 2:30 and program at 3 p. m.

SECURITY BENEFIT ASS'N. WILL MEET TOMORROW

Glendale council No. 3696 of the Security Benefit association, gave its second dance Thursday evening, October 25th at the American Legion hall. It was also the birthday of Sister Mayer, district manager, and the members surprised her with a beautiful basket of flowers and a birthday cake.

Thursday, November 1, the regular meeting will be held. Ten new members will be initiated. A degree team from one of the large councils in Los Angeles will put on the work. The sisters will serve coffee and sandwiches. All members are invited to attend.

MRS. MATTISON B. JONES LAUDS ORPHEUS CLUB

In a communication from Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music Club, read at the regular meeting on Tuesday night of the Oratorio section, the members were urged to attend the Orpheus club concert to be given Tuesday night at the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium, the proceeds to be used by the Knights Templar organization for worthy causes in Glendale.

HALLOWE'EN DINNER PARTY AT TUESDAY CLUBHOUSE

Covers were laid for 130 at the very delightful Halloween dinner party, given by the Tuesday Afternoon club in the banquet room of the clubhouse on Tuesday night under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery. Appropriate and unique decorations had been placed throughout the banquet room and palm court by Mrs. Estelle Brain. There were witches, orange and black streamers and fancy motifs hung from the chandeliers, from which were also suspended bass of confetti.

Black cats, pumpkins and corn stalks were also in evidence. After the dinner dancing was enjoyed by about 150 guests. Music was furnished by Kelly's Shrine orchestra. Mrs. George T. Smith was chairman of the dance committee. For those not caring to dance there were tables provided for cards. Mrs. W. F. Macpherson had charge of the bridge tables and Mrs. Allen Fairchild had charge of the "500." Prizes for high score at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. Butterfield, Dr. Colin Cable and Mrs. Butterfield. First Prizes at "500" went to Mrs. Anna E. Smith and W. E. Roake.

This is undoubtedly the most popular men's musical organization of that city and is a great favorite in Glendale where it is always welcomed by music lovers.

An especially fine program has been arranged for the concert the club is to give here Thursday night, November 1, in the Tuesday Afternoon club auditorium, but under the auspices of the Glendale Commandery, Knights Templar. Several Glendallians, among whom are W. L. Hyde, O. W. Andersen and Stanley Searler are members of the club. Tickets may be secured from any one of them.

HALLOWE'EN FROLIC AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL

A real frolic was enjoyed at the First Congregational church Tuesday night by members of the Friendship class and the Men's class who came costumed and masqued, and who forgot their dignity and did a variety of Halloween stunts. O. E. Von Oven was winner of first prize in a doughnut eating contest, and a lady guest, who is a newcomer in Glendale, won the award for pinning the tail on the cat. Mrs. W. Q. Widdows had general charge of the party and introduced a number of new games she had learned in the east.

About forty were present including a number of new residents who seemed to enjoy themselves thoroughly, and refreshments of coffee and pumpkin pie were served at the close of the evening. An unusually beautiful setting was provided by decorations of corn stalks, pumpkins, apples, etc., the stage being centered by a witches' cauldron.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mercer of 319 North Jackson street spent Sunday as guests of Ed McRae of Los Angeles.

PHIL FELTON APPEALS FOR LARGER TICKET SALES

Phil Felton, Glendale's poet-philosopher, writes the Glendale Daily Press as follows:

"I was so sorry to read in one of your editorials that the sale of tickets for the benefit of the women and children of the brave laddies who gave up their lives in their efforts to save others should be meeting with so tardy a response. The citizens of Glendale surely cannot fail to realize what that terrible sacrifice of young lives means to them. These men and others who helped stop that fire are real heroes and the only way in which we can recognize their bravery and sacrifice is by giving to the limit of our means to the precious ones they left behind them. If you cannot come through with $5, give what you can. Christ did not despise the widow's mite."

GIVES HALLOWE'EN PARTY FOR HER DAUGHTER

GRAND OPENING JENSEN'S PALACE GRAND SHOPS

The grand opening of the Jensen Palace Grand shops, 133 North Brand boulevard will be held on Thursday, November 1. All of the shops in this wonderful business center have been leased and to celebrate this fact the proprietors of the various stores have decided to give a big party, with all the people of Glendale as guests.

At this event there will be a fashion revue, souvenirs, flowers, music and prizes. The idea of the hosts is to make this a gala event. There are eleven different lines of business represented in these shops, and each of them is up to the minute in its particular line.

The Lewis' Jewelry company, "where courteous treatment is served with every purchase," is located on the corner of the Arcade. Everything high class along the jewelry line is carried in this store and the prices are right.

The Melba-Jeanne Shoppe, where sport and ready-to-wear clothing for women are carried, is also located there. Throughout Thursday, living models, provided by this shoppe, will promenade through the Egyptian village, down the stairway and into the corridor. Melba Dott, Russell and Jeanne Bosley are proprietors of this store.

Here, also, is found the Palace Grand Beauty Shoppe. Helene Woodruff, proprietor. Everything in the way of waterwaving, marcelling, bobcutting, shampooing and facial work is done in this shoppe in real workmanlike manner. Hair goods and novelty jewelry are also carried at this shoppe.

The Heschke Shoe store, a modern establishment in its line, is among the stores in the Palace Grand shops. It is conducted by an expert shoe man, who will have a special sale on all footwear on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Another extremely useful place of business is the Gift and Art Needlework shop, the motto of which is "buy a gift." "Only 46 more shopping days before Christmas," says the proprietor of this establishment which carries everything along the gift line.

BENTLEY LUMBER COMPANY'S BIG PLANT AT 460 WEST LOS FELIZ ROAD

When you build the home you've dreamed about, will you have in it all the best, the latest, the most convenient features that will make the home comfortable and enjoyable?

Will the floor plan suit you—the finish of the woodwork—the decorations of the walls inside and outside, the finish, the general effect? Will you be sure you have the things that bring lasting satisfaction and enjoyment.

If your home does suit you in every way it will be because you have given it a thorough study, careful planning. It will be your home because you've informed yourself as to the plans, materials, methods, conveniences, costs and all other details of home building and owning.

It is this kind of a home that the Bentley Lumber company, situated at 460 West Los Feliz road helps its customers and friends to build, by giving them the most practical information on home building and planning to be found in Southern California.

Complete in every detail will be found the most modern and up to date plan service department ever established in this territory. Separated from the main office this department is housed in a building of tile construction 42 feet long, 16 feet wide, separated into 3 rooms. Upon entering the reception room you are at once greeted by the home atmosphere of a wonderful fireplace of Batchelder tile, and on either side are built-in bookcases of conventional design, constructed of Philippine mahogany. Built-in bed closet with solid mahogany doors, and the convenient arrangement of wicker table and lounge chair and rocker, give this room a distinctive and individual appearance to the casual observer. The more discriminative will observe the mahogany moldings, cove casing about the door and windows, the beautiful covering of the walls.

BOYS' SHOP WILL DELIVER JUNIOR HI SWEATERS SOON

The Boys' Shop, 104 West Broadway, will furnish the sweaters for the Junior Class of the Glendale Union High School, and delivery will be made in the near future.

According to Mr. Richards, the general proprietor, the 300 sweaters are the best it is possible to get. They are made from Minnesota wool, with knit pockets, and "cannot be duplicated anywhere," said Mr. Richards, "for the price I sold them to the High school boys."

The Boys' Shop is making a big hit with the public and its business is increasing right along.

BRAND-CENTRAL MARKET MAKES SOME CHANGES

The Brand Central Market, 207 North Brand, has been making several changes lately, which will add to its efficiency in serving the public.

F. O. Polleys has more than doubled the space of his lunch counter business, and can now serve more than 50 people. Mr. Polleys has gained an enviable reputation for his French doughnuts and is enjoying a good trade.

They are asking the privilege of presenting the benefits of incorporation to the members of the association and the residents of La Crescenta. Every property owner in the valley should be present, at this meeting and take a personal interest in the discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stivers of 143 East Mayfield avenue were guests of relatives at Long Beach over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mars of Glendale, formerly of Spokane, and Miss Ann Blackman of Glendale were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brown last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas entertained Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Augur of Portland, Ore., during the past week. Mrs. Augur is Mr. Thomas' sister. Mr. and Mrs. Augur were the incentive for a delightful supper party, at the Thomas home Sunday evening. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Stone Fowler and Mrs. M. Ennis, of Pasadena. During the afternoon a number of friends were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas informally at tea, among them being Mrs. William De Mille and daughters, and the Misses George, sisters of Henry George, the noted author of "Progress and Poverty," and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kolts.

The first meeting of the Ladies' Guild of the new church, St. Luke's of the Mountains, will be held at the La Crescenta hotel Thursday afternoon with Miss Gertrude Denton as hostess. A cordial invitation is extended to all, who are interested in the new church.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

Rev. H. A. Kelso, pastor of the La Crescenta Community church, announces that the dedication of the new church on Montrose avenue, will be held Sunday, November 18. This will be one of the important events of the year for La Crescenta, as it marks the completion of the first real church building in this district, for which much credit is due Rev. Kelso, whose untiring efforts have made the new home for the Community church possible. Rev. C. Wilbur, of Santa Monica, a former pastor of the La Crescenta church, delivered the sermon last Sunday morning at the school auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. McNeil and family, of Santa Ana, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Potter last Sunday.

Dr. Montague Cleaves of North Briggs avenue, who escaped serious injury in an automobile accident in Glendale Monday evening is much improved. His friends will be happy to learn that his injuries are not as serious as first reported.

The regular monthly session of the La Crescenta Improvement association will be held at the school auditorium Thursday evening. A letter from the chamber of commerce of Montrose announces that a committee and many members of the organization will attend.

enamel, the wall coverings are of Sanitas, a washable and enduring fabric that will withstand the wear and tear of smoke and steam, which is suitable for kitchen and bathroom refinement such as exhibited in the better class of homes. The floor in this room is of first grade pine.

The third or last room of the plan service department is an architectural, or drafting room.

The exterior appearance of the service department is of stucco in Spanish design.

An interesting fact about the office buildings of the Bentley Lumber company is the fact that there are four different types of building construction—stucco and frame, stucco and hollow tile, stucco (magnisite) and frame and frame. Some interesting facts about these buildings may be had in the plan service department.

The Bentley Lumber company will help you build your home by giving you hundreds of helpful ideas and suggestions that will save you money.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery of 415 South Central avenue entertained as her guests at the Hallowe'en dinner party given Tuesday night at the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mr. and Mrs. Orth of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cantor and Harry Nielsen.

MUNICIPAL PLAY HOUSE NEED IS VOICED TO C. OF C.

The need of a municipal play-house was suggested by Mrs. Nanno Woods of 122 Milford street, director of Community Players, in a letter received last night by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

"We hope the Glendale public will appreciate the tremendous efforts we are putting forth," she wrote, "and also appreciate the financial obligations which some of us are incurring in our desire to provide a large group of people with interest and develop occupation of their leisure hours and to provide the public at large with wholesome entertainment and amusement."

"After the play is over, the director and art directors of the Glendale Community Players would be glad to receive an invitation to speak before your body on the need of a municipal auditorium and the later where non-commercial entertainments could be produced at a rental that would not handicap efforts of such an organization—all for the sake of a greater Glendale."

Directors present voted to attend on either Friday or Saturday at the Tuesday Afternoon club the presentation of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

GILBERT STUART PAINTING IN GLENDALE

Mrs. D. J. Hibben Has Portrait of Great Aunt
by This Great Artist

Remarkable in the interesting story story associated with it is the Gilbert Stuart oil painting over 100 years old that is now in the possession of Mrs. D. J. Hibben of 123 East Laurel street. It is a portrait of Mrs. Hibben's grandfather's sister, who before her marriage to Matthew Newkirk of Philadelphia, was Jane Reece Stroud. Mr. Newkirk was first president of the first steam railroad, the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore, and he was the inventor of the system of checking baggage which is still in successful use.

Mr. Newkirk was in the war of 1812. As the troops were on parade, marching through the streets of Philadelphia, he saw Miss Stroud coming down an outside stairway. He remarked to his marching companion, "There is my wife if I can get her." It happened that his companion was the brother of the young lady and through him an introduction was arranged. Before moving to Philadelphia Miss Stroud had been known as the "belle of Baltimore," in which city she had resided.

Mrs. Newkirk lived only two years after her marriage and it was at the time of her death in 1819 that the portrait was made by Gilbert Stuart. The picture hung for some time in the art gallery at Philadelphia as a sample of Mr. Stuart's work and was at that time considered his masterpiece, as it had been made after the death of his subject. At the time of Mrs. Newkirk's death her husband sent to Boston for Stuart to make the portrait. Her brother sat for the painting of the eyes and on its completion the picture was declared to be a perfect likeness.

When Mr. Newkirk died the portrait was sent to Mrs. Hibben's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stroud, in Illinois. At her death it went to Mrs. Hibben's aunt, from her to Mrs. Hibben's mother and then to Mrs. Hibben.

As most persons are aware, Gilbert Stuart is best known by his portrait of George Washington.

War of Cannors Brings Fruit Prices Down

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—A trade war between the Australian fruit pool controllers and the canners of California has resulted in reduced prices for preserved fruits, notably peaches, in New South Wales, New Zealand and Java. A publicity campaign here also has caused increased demand, and it is estimated that there will be little difficulty in handling next year's crop if three-quarters of the fruit is eaten at home.

ANDY SMITH'S CHARGES
TOUGH GAMES

While it is absolutely impossible to determine definitely why Andy Smith's Golden Bears were able to score only a 9 to 0 victory over the Washington State Cougars last Saturday, it is possible to point out some of the underlying causes that might have contributed to the low score of the Bruins. To begin with, Captain Don Nichols was out of the game. No team plays its best when its captain is out. Nichols was suffering from an attack of tonsillitis, but is expected to be in the game this Saturday. Then again Coach Bagshaw of the University of Washington Huskies was in the grandstand with a pencil and a pad of paper keeping close tab on every move of the Bruins. It may be that Andy was not anxious to impress the Husky coach with his playing and did exactly what Elmer Henderson did when the California scouts came down to look over the Trojans in the Pomona and Caltech games early in the season, that is, kept his stuff under cover. Then the fact that the game was played on a sand and sawdust field may have contributed to the result, for the Bears are used to playing on a turf field. Any or all of these causes might have contributed to the result and again it may have been that the Cougars were just simply better than had been expected, and gave Cal a big surprise.

Be all this as it may, the Blue and Gold won the game and it is not necessary for California supporters to apologize for the score. They defeated Washington State, and after all, that is all that matters. If they can win all their games without being scored upon, but would not pile up the digits, as in the last three years, the reason he gave was not that the Bears are any weaker this year but that the other teams have strengthened their game so that the general class of the teams in the Pacific Coast conference is now much higher than it was in 1921 or 1922. The competition this year is much stiffer than it has ever been previously and if the Bruins can keep up the pace and go through their fourth successive season with a clean slate, even if they don't hang up huge scores as they have in the past, they will have conclusively demonstrated that they are the real wonder team they are cracked up to be.

The Blue and Gold has a tough schedule to face for the rest of the season. This Saturday the Bears

THREE CENTRAL LEAGUE GAMES
ON FOR FRIDAY

The triple tie that has continued in the Central league since the opening of the season nearly three weeks ago will be ended Friday afternoon as a result of the three games scheduled to be played. Glendale is expected to remain at the head of the percentage column by taking the Monrovia Wildcats down the line. Alhambra and Covina, the two other teams with percentage records of 1,000, will meet at Covina. As a result of the encounter, one of the two teams will be showed out of the all-wins position, narrowing the lead down to Glendale and the winner of this battle. That is assuming, however, that the game does not end in a tie and that the Dynamiters are able to subdue the Wildcats.

The other battle of the day is scheduled to take place at South Pasadena between the Citrus Lemons and the South Pasadena Tigers. The South Pasadena eleven made a much better showing in the Glendale game than did the Citrus gang, and is favored to cop. Neither team has won a league game to date.

It is expected that Glendale will take Monrovia down the line with ease. meet Nevada at Berkeley. They are calculated to take this game with ease. The following Saturday, November 19, they come south to meet the University of Southern California eleven in the Los Angeles Coliseum. This is the hardest game of the entire season, and the one that has worried the Bears most. If they can put the Trojans out of the running, one of their biggest worries will be over with. Then on the 17th, comes the Washington game and the week after that the Stanford affair. They will both be tough games, making three real battles for the Bruins in as many weeks. The Stanford game will end the conference season. If the Blue and Gold gridders are successful, then they will begin preparations for the New Year's game. It might be said that the Bruins have the toughest part of their schedule ahead of them.

TIGER GRIDDERS
PLAY POETS
SATURDAYOxy and Whittier to Battle
at the Quaker City

By LESTER P. GRAFIOUS

The Occidental Tigers will take on the fast Whittier Quakers Saturday afternoon at Whittier. The affair promises to be one of the best of the season for the Southern California conference. To date the Occidental Tigers have not been beaten by a Southern California conference team and expect to go through the season without a beating. The Tiger squad is in pretty good condition and will go in the game a fully developed eleven. Occidental students expect the worst kind of competition this year and figure on turning out in full strength. If spirit counts for anything, the Black and Orange varsity will win.

Last year the Eagle Rock institution cleaned up on the Quakers to the tune of 29 to 0. While they do not expect to duplicate that score this year they figure on winning by a comfortable margin that will at least assure them the championship. Last Saturday they played a secret session with the crew of the battleship Idaho and showed up in splendid form.

Two years ago the Tigers went down to Whittier and were handed a defeat. The Whittier bunch used a little psychology in the matter by putting the Occidental players' bench right in front of the "howling thousand," as the Quaker rooters are called, and from the results of this the Quakers won considerably easier than they probably would have done. This year, however, the Tigers have a considerable edge on the contest and with the entire student body out to root for them at Whittier, the Quakers stand a good chance of getting beaten. Pipal, Tiger coach, is working his men hard every day and will take no chances on the team being overconfident. He keeps all his men in very near perfect physical condition.

DICK BLEWETT TO LEAD BEAR
FROSH ELEVEN

BERKELEY, Oct. 31.—Dick Blewett was elected captain of the University of California football team tonight. Blewett is a former Manual Arts high school gridiron, and is a member of the famous Blewett clan of athletes. He graduated from the Southern prep school with the summer class of this year. While at Manual he was considered one of the best prep school gridiron players ever to be developed in Southern California. Dick was also a star on the cinder-path while at the Toller institution, copping the state prep high hurdle championship during his senior year.

TWO GOOD BOUTS
STAGED LAST NIGHT

Cecil Taylor and Freddie Klagge fought to a draw in the semi-windup of the Glendale Athletic club bouts last night. They put up a real exhibition of boxing and the draw decision proved popular with the fans. Taylor, who looked awkward as he entered the ring, showed up exceptionally well and proved himself the speediest fighter yet seen in the local ring. He was handicapped by a badly lacerated ear and a swollen eye before the bout opened, but fought gamely in spite of his injuries.

Fred Rose knocked out Jimmy Racer in the third round of their battle with a hard punch to the solar plexus. Racer had the best of the battle up to this time and had Rose on the run. A lucky punch gave Rose the victory. These two fighters slugged for all they were worth, and gave the crowd a real exhibition of the hitting game. The first round of the curtain raiser, the affair lasted less than a minute, and ended in a real wallow. A comic affair not on the card was pulled off when Andy Nelson and Johnny Meyers entered the ring fully dressed, were blindfolded, given boxing gloves in one hand and a tin can in the other and told to go to it.

HACKENSCHMIDT
VICTOR OVER
JOE POLKHack Wins When Polk
Throws Up Sponge
Because of Cut

By FRANCIS W. READ

It took John Hackenschmidt just one hour and ten minutes to make Joe Polk holler enough last night. Then it was only injuries he had suffered in the afternoon while working in the movies that prevented the champion of the A. E. F. Polk from staying it out with Hack. Polk suffered a severe cut on his face when a stovepipe fell and hit him in a scene at Universal City early in the afternoon and the injury told on him after an hour in the arena.

Last night's affair was one of the classic exhibitions of wrestling ever seen in Glendale, vying with the Hackenschmidt-Montana draw of Labor day. It was a fight from the start, and never once did either grappler show signs of weakening. Hackenschmidt is noted for his famous toe hold, for which he has won many a match, and wide, came high to spring his defeat last night. He tried to make Joe give in by grabbing him by the pedal appendages, but the ex-soldier turned the tables and gave him a dose of his own medicine, twisting his toes so hard that he seemed at times to be unable to move. Polk worked the toe hold time after time, especially when Hack had him in difficult places. Hack also grabbed his opponent's feet, but it seemed that Joe was able to stand almost anything in that line.

They started by feeling each other out, and occupied fully five minutes at that occupation before either man hit the mat. Then they grappled in hold after hold, Hack having the better of nearly every argument for the first forty minutes. Then Joe began to show his face began to tell on him and his bandages worked loose. He called for time, asked to have his bandages adjusted, and then decided to throw up the sponge. His face was painful so that he found it impossible to go on with the bout.

"BOOL," ARMENIAN AND GREEK WANT TO TAKE ON HACK

John Hackenschmidt, who defeated Joe Polk in the wrestling bout last night, has three men out after his scalp. The famous Bull Montana, who wrestled Hack to a draw here on Labor day; Louis Pargantzas, Greek heavyweight, and Iosna Kozak, Armenian wrestler, have all issued challenges to Hackenschmidt, as the winner of last night's affair. All three challengers were present last night.

Which one of these offers Hack will accept it is difficult to say, states Les Marston, matchmaker of the Athletic club bouts. A go with the "Bool" would undoubtedly draw crowds, while a match with either of the two foreigners would prove popular. It is also intimated that the fans would like to see a return bout between Hack and Polk when the latter's face has healed sufficiently. In a short time Hackenschmidt is expected to make his choice of opponents known.

GRAYSON WIRES
FERRIS MY OWN
WILL RACE HERE

Dick Ferris, who is to bring horse racing back to Southern California with a big meeting starting on Christmas day at the new track now being rapidly constructed at Culver City, was highly elated yesterday. Dick had a telegram from Admiral Cary T. Grayson, owner of the famous 3-year-old, My Own. The telegram read that if My Own was successful in winning the Latonia Special next Saturday and that if Ferris could interest Harry Sinclair and Sam Hildreth, owner and trainer of the famous Zev, in the proposition, Grayson would be willing to have My Own race Zev at Culver City on Christmas Day. Ferris recently wired a $100,000 offer for such a match race.

MIDGET GRIDDERS
FACE MONROVIA
TOMORROWBaby Dynamiters Travel to Wildcat's Lair
for Game

By FAIRFIELD WILSON

The Glendale lightweight footballers will travel to Monrovia tomorrow, confident of showing their prowess in a favorable light. They have lost only one game so far and still have a good chance of capturing the championship. They are not expecting to let any other team do to them what Citrus did, even though it is a better team than Citrus. The Glendale boys have the real fighting spirit, which counts for as much as skill and tactics put together; but the coaches have seen to it that they are not lacking in either skill or tactics. La Franche certainly does know how to use his head as all quarterbacks should. Under his direction each man knows his place and play. The team has been undergoing stiff practices for the past week. In signal drills it has been showing up splendidly. In scrimmage it has proved itself an A-1 team. Monrovia will be a strong opponent, in all probability, but will need all her strength to hold Glendale in check. Those who have seen only the heavyweight team play should, by all means, manage to watch the lightweighters in action. They are just as fine a team and have played some intensely interesting games. There are not many schools that could boast as fast a backfield as Glendale's Midgets. They have many clever and tricky plays which always hold a thrill for a real football fan.

With their desire for the championship, their ability and their sportsmanlike determination, a real tangle good game should result. On Friday Monrovia's heavyweight team will meet Glendale on the local field.

MONTROSE NOTES

Six of the seven directors of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce attended the board meeting held last evening in the Carson Realty company's offices. Further discussion was held as to the proposed incorporation of Montrose and La Crescenta. The chamber is decidedly in favor of the plan and is making every effort to get before the people the many benefits of incorporation. The board will meet with the La Crescenta Improvement association Thursday evening at the La Crescenta school house. At last night's meeting Miss Virginia Ellis was voted an honorary member of the organization and was elected to serve in the capacity of assistant secretary.

To add to the enjoyment of the get-together meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening, November 6, arrangements have been made with Marian Tracy Whiting of Los Angeles to be present and lend her aid in the community singing which will follow the meeting. Mrs. Whiting needs no introduction as a director of community sings and her presence will increase the pleasure of all who attend.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thomas have taken a little cottage above Michigan avenue, where they will spend the winter months. The Thomases are a charming newly-married couple. The young bride was formerly Miss Gladys Harding of Ocean Park. Mr. Thomas comes from Michigan. He contemplates taking up vocational training during the winter.

AT THE THEATERS

MAE MURRAY FIRST STAR TO APPEAR BY RADIO

To Mae Murray, dainty Metro star, whose newest picture, "The French Doll" will be seen at the Glendale theater today, is credited the innovation of the now popular "radio appearances" by which screen stars are intimate with theater audiences though separated by thousands of miles. It happened in this way.

Miss Murray one day received an urgent request from a Cleveland theater to come to that city and make a personal appearance in connection with her notable production, "The French Doll."

Being at that time busy in New York City, Miss Murray conceived the unique idea of making her "personal appearance by radio."

Arrangements were forthwith made with a leading New York broadcasting station, the Cleveland theater apprised of the matter and in the evening when everyone was comfortably seated in the huge Cleveland house, Miss Murray radioed her message.

"The French Doll" was adapted to the screen by Frances Marion from the English adaptation of the French play by A. E. Thomas.

STAGE KISS NOT SO THRILLING, SAYS HARLAN

Youths who have envied Kenneth Harlan the privilege of kissing most of the alluring leading ladies of the screen may change their viewpoint on hearing Kenneth's own explanation of the meaning of the screen kiss.

"It isn't all that it seems to be," said the hero of "The Broken Wing," to be seen today at the T. D. & L. theater. "In fact, the motion picture kiss is probably the only thing being done before the camera nowadays that isn't absolutely genuine."

"Here's usually the way it goes. You start the kiss and the cameraman yells, 'Out of camera line!' You try again and the director yells 'Turn your heads!'"

"Once more and some one shouts, 'Rotten, too wooden.' You rest and brush powder off your coat sleeve. Then it is decided to have the kiss on a balcony."

"Then you try it with a profile view. You try again but it won't do."

"At this point the director shouts 'cut' and then tells you to go home as he will 'shoot' the scene tomorrow."

There's the usual good "Vodvil" at the T. D. & L. theater, also.

"SECOND FIDDLE" AND VAUDEVILLE AT THE GATEWAY

Mary Astor, the young lady who plays the leading feminine role in "Second Fiddle," which comes to the Gateway theater today, is one of the sweetest and most lovable personalities on the screen. Mary was born in Quincy, Ill., and from early childhood was reared by her parents with a view of entering upon a career either on the stage or in pictures. She came to New York to live and won the 1920 Beauty Contest conducted by the Brewster publications.

After that she made her first appearance in pictures. Critics everywhere proclaimed her the most beautiful girl on the screen. Her sweetness and charm took the country by storm.

Glenn Hunter is in the title role of "Second Fiddle." In addition to this stirring film there is the usual Wednesday vaudeville, "The Better Kind." Stanley Bentley is at the organ.

"MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH" FRIDAY, SATURDAY

That the production of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" on Friday and Saturday nights of this week will be a brilliant success is already an assured fact. Never before has such a complete stage setting been offered to the Glendale public. The exterior sets of the Wiggs and Hazy homes are marvels of stage construction. These sets alone would sell for $300. They have been designed by Robert Stevenson, formerly of the Little theater of Chicago, and built under his personal supervision by Bill Boyden, Ray Stinson, Ed Schockley and other volunteer workers.

The play itself is the sweetest and most wholesome of stories, portraying comedy and pathos altogether fascinating to any audience. The acting of the members of the cast is professional in smoothness and finish. "Mrs. Wiggs" is played by Mrs. Fannie Stockbridge, the original Mrs. Hazy of the Morosco production; "Mrs. Wiggs" is portrayed with a breadth of conception and charm by Mrs. Adeline Wheeler Bradley, the comic part of "Mrs. Schuler" is a scream as offered by Mrs. Edith Boyden Holway; "Lovey Mary" as played by Dorothy Woods is a most appealing role. "Mr. Stubbins" by Ray Stinson and "Mr. Wiggs" by Mr. Clark are two of the finest male characterizations ever seen on an amateur stage. The minor roles are equally good.

The Community Players is a non-commercial organization—all services volunteered—and the admission charged will be used to recoup the expenses of the production which amount to almost $300.

THE SAND MAN

Little heads are nodding now, nodding, half asleep.
Sand man's coming 'round.
Twilight growing dimmer now, shadow falling deep.
Sand man's coming 'round.
Little hands are quiet now; sleepy, sleepy head.
Drooping, drooping eyelids that are heavier than lead.
Time that little children all were bundled off to bed.
Sand man's coming 'round.

Birds no longer singing now; all asleep—but hark!
Sand man's coming 'round.
Don't you hear him creeping, creeping softly through the dark?
Sand man's coming 'round.

Children never see him, but they surely cannot doubt.
When their little eyes are full of sand he scatters all about.
And rub and rub as rub they will they cannot get it out.
Sand man's coming 'round.

Little ones are dreaming now, dreaming with a smile.
Sand man's been around.

Little eyes half open but he closed them after while.
Sand man's been around.

Whispered in each ear, oh, such a sleepy lullaby.
Touching with his wand of sleep each struggling little eye.
Till it couldn't keep from closing tight, no matter how it try.
Sand man's been around.

Monthly Missionary Service at New Church

Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, will have charge of the prayer and praise service at the new church at Harvard and Louise streets this evening. This will be the monthly missionary service and Dr. W. B. Allison of Eagle Rock will give the address of the evening. His subject will be "By Rail and Trail Over Mountain and Vale in Guatemala." The address will be illustrated by many views which have been prepared by Dr. Allison himself. The speaker has appeared in Glendale on other occasions and is always heard with much interest. He has a missionary message which is different than any other and which glows with interesting personal facts from beginning to end. Dr. and Mrs. Allison spent twenty years under the Presbyterian Foreign Missionary board in Guatemala. While on furlough Dr. Allison is teaching Spanish in Occidental college.

CALGARY, Alberta.—J. Leverington, farming near Vulcan, Alberta, figures that he has a revenue from 200 acres of summer fallow that yield an average of 52½ bushels of wheat to the acre to more than pay for the land. Equally high yields are reported on many other farms in this district.

EDMONTON, Alberta.—Carbon black is not yet being manufactured in Canada, but negotiations are now in progress to establish factories in the Alberta gas fields that are remote from centers of population. In 1922 there were exported from to United States 1,500,000 pounds of carbon black, some of which was valued at 40 cents per pound, this grade being used in the manufacture of special printing inks used for embossing, lithographing and half-tone work.
